After the smoke had cleared away, the charred remains of three were discovered under the roins, and the fourth was found in the vicinity, stunned, but apparently alive. He was removed to a neighboring shed, and Drs. Peck and Ayres were called in to attend to his necessities. He was found to be badly injured. After a time he recovered his speech, and stated that he left the building and had just re-entered the door when the explosion occurred. He could not tell the cause. The name of the injured man is Patrick O. Hare. He asked what had become of the others, and those about him infimited that they were all right, at which he expressed himself satisfied. They did not deem it prudent to divulge the sad details. He was soon after removed to the hospital, and the bodies were taken in charge by their friends. The names of the killed are as follows:—

Before Hon, Judge Hilton. SOIT FOR BERVICES IN RELEASING OCEAN STRANGER CONDENSED FOR VIOLATING THE PASSENGER LAW-VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, ETC.

APRIL 10-Joseph Hexic vs. Daniel B. Allen .- This was an action commenced in the year 1853, to recover for serces rendered, or, in the words of the complaint, "to erform work and labor and render services of great raine, in procuring the release from condemnation and forfeiture of a certain steamship, called the S. S. Lewis, beretofore condemned and forfeited to the United States ad wholly lost to the owner or owners, and procured the rectoration of the said steamship to the owner or ownreservation of the said steamship to the owner or owners," and the complaint further alleged that the plaintiff had, at the request of the defendant, done certain other work and reduced other services in and for the discontinuance and dismissal of certain suits instituted by the United States against two other steamships, the Pacific and the Independence, during the administration of President Pillmore. It appears that these vessels were condemned for violating the passenger laws between New York and California. The defence admitted that the plaintiff did perform certain work and labor at the defendant's request, but denied that the plaintiff ground the restoration of the steamship in question. Jamages were laid at $5,000.

Mr. Jos. Hoxie testified that in 1885 he rendered such services at the request of Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, who said defendant would give him certain papers and documents to lay before President Fillmore, adding that Mr. Allen would pay him for his services. He (Mr. Hozie) went to Washington en two occasions, remaining there twelve or fitteen days, and that he had several interviews with the President on the subject. The result was that President Fillmore released the vessels.

The defendant and Mr. Cornellus Vanderbilt were examined on the part of the defence, and contradicted the statement made by the plaintiff, that Mr. Allen would compensate him for his services. Mr. Allen also testified that he considered $500 would be sufficient compensation for such services.

Mr. Geo. Briggs (ex member of Congress) testified that that he considered $500 would be sufficient compensation for such services.

Mr Geo. Briggs (ex-member of Congress) testified that he was acquainted with the business of the departments in Washington for procuring acts to be passed by them. In his opinion the value of the services rendered by Mr. Hexie, considering the amount involved, would be three, four or five hundred deliars.

Mr. E. K. Collins, the well known Atlantic ship owner, thought the plaintiffs services, at the lowest estimate, would be from two and a half to five per cent on the value of the services rendered to the owner.

Mr. Ellingwood, associated with Mr. Rapallo as counsel for the defence, summed up, and Mr. Jas. T. Brady, associated with Mr. Doe. Hoxie, Jr., summed up for the plaintiff.

After an elaborate charge from the Judge on the law the plaintiff.

After an elaborate charge from the Judge on the law applicable to the case, and leaving it to the jury to determine the amount of compensation to which the plaintiff was entitled, the jury retired for about fitteen minutes and brought in a verdet for plaintiff for 04,000. The Court in addition, ellowed $100 to course!

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

THURSDAY, April 10-6 P. M. The money market continues to increase in ease. Some banking houses are still getting seven per cent, but others lend at six, and this, we think, is the general rate. The increasing ease in money is largely due to the expansion of circulation by the banks of the interior. The bank note compa nies report that the banks of this State, of New England and of the West are all rapidly expanding their circulation, and seeking to lend money on long time. Their object will the more readily be attained as the want of small notes-ones, twos, and threes-is becoming severely felt, especially in the localities where the army is moving. Banker, write from Washington and from Virginia and Kentucky that they will be glad to exchange any quantity of Treasury notes for small notes by good banks in this section. The soldiers, sutlers, and bankers dealing with sutlers, are all suffering from the want of "change," and it is abundantly evident that our Northern banks will here find an outlet for a very large amount of currency. The paper money expansion created by the government is necessitating a further expansion by the banks, and the prospect that by the time Mr. Chase has reached his limit of $150,000,000 the banks will have increased their circulation by very nearly a corresponding amount. Treasury notes and certificates of indebtedness are wanted to-day. The 7.30 notes are worth par; the 6 per cents 1001/4; the certificates are scarce at 96%. It is generally understood that Mr. Chase will advertise next week for $50,000,000 of five per cents, payable in five years. He will receive payment for them partly in money and partly in certificates of indebtedness. He is understood to have been bid 90 for $20,000,000.

Foreign exchange was steady to-day at 112% for bankers' bills on London, and 5.00 a 5.05 for bankers' bills on Paris. Very little business is doing. Gold is dull at 101% a %.

The stock market again astonished the public to-day by its inactivity. Various causes are as, signed for the phenomenon. Some people say that the victory at Corinth is still disbelieved others affect to think that a mysterious dread of the Merrimac continues to deter the public from having. A more likely cause for the prevailing duiness is the heavy sales of cash stock which are probably being made by one or more parties who have been prominent bulls. There are indications that a large block of stock is being sold out, and is finding its way into new hands. When it has been disposed of the incubus which now weighs upon the market will probably be removed, and stocks will move more in harmon? with the news from the army. At the first board to-day governments declined 1/2, State stocks 11/4 a 1/2, and railway shares 1/2 a 1/2 per cent, the heaviest on the list being Himois Central and Galera. The only exception to the market was the bonds of the Michigan Southern, which rose 1/2 per cent, and appear at last to be attracting public attention. Between the boards the market was the better, and there was a stronger tone, without much change in prices. The market looked as Meyers R. L. & A. Stuart for their refixed goods, established. buying. A more likely cause for the prevailing dulness is the heavy sales of cash stock which are
